

Technote 08 – Downloading/exporting logfiles from the AcquiSuite with Excel

If you are downloading your log file exports to your laptop or desktop PC, a question that comes up often is “What happened to my downloaded data ? Well here's how to solve it. The way Microsoft Internet Explorer handles .TXT files is to save downloads with this extension into a temporary file. After doing this usually the dialog box closes and it may be tough to find where the log file you just downloaded went to. An easy solution is to do this. First select any available folder from your desktop then select Tools now go to the Folder Options from here select the third tab File Types . Scroll down and select the .TXT file. Go ahead and delete it. See the below screen shot of what it will look like. This will not cause your computer to malfunction. Next time when you select a log file to be downloaded, it will save to your desktop.
